AEROPLANES RACE FROM NEW YORK TO SPOKANE

COSGRAVE PARTY HAS LEAD IN IRISH CONTEST

Sixty-seven Government Seats in the Dail Against Sixty-three for Opposition; Twenty-three Seats Still to Be Heard From

Dublin, Sept. 19.—The government has increased its lead by four seats over the opposition up to 3 p.m. The government now has sixty-seven seats in the Dail against sixty-three for the opposition.

The standing was as follows: Cosgrave Party, 64; Independents, 10; Farmers, 3. Total, 67 for the government.

Planina Fall (de Valera followers) 49; Labor, 11; National League 3 and Larkinites 1, giving sixty-three to the opposition.

There are twenty-three seats to be heard from.

SMALL PARTIES LOST
All the small parties lost severely and where the government made gains it was at the expense of the Independents and Farmers who supported President Cosgrave in the last Dail.

It is clear the election leaves things pretty much as before and what will follow the remarkable results of the polling puzzles the political prophets.

Some doubts are expressed whether President Cosgrave will consent to form another government with the small majority which is the best he can hope to obtain, but he is saying nothing as to what course he proposes to take.

DE VALERA SILENT
Ramonon de Valera is equally silent as to his chances and the whole situation is confused. One solution is generally regarded as ruled out in any case—that is another election, which if it is declared neither the Government nor the Planina Fall could afford for some time. Even if they found means to raise the money it is said the smaller parties would have to submit to total eclipse for lack of funds.

RUM RUNNING FAILS TO THREATEN PEACE

Has Not Compromised American-Canada Relations, League Learns

Geneva, Sept. 19.—Although the smuggling of liquor between Canada and the United States is being carried on on a large scale, this has not compromised the peaceful relations of the two countries, declared Hon. Philippe Roy, Canadian high commissioner in Paris, before the humanitarian committee of the assembly of the League of Nations.

Hon. Mr. Roy was discussing a Finnish proposition proposing an active investigation of the League into alcoholism and appointment of a permanent committee on alcoholism.

After meeting the opposition of delegates from the wine and whisky producing and consuming countries, the Finnish delegation practically threw up the sponge, announcing that in view of the complexity of the problem they would present a modified resolution dealing with the liquor subject.

After stating that he opposed the Finnish resolution if it included wine "which is nourishing and not poison," Mr. Roy said it was for each country to regulate the use of alcohol but of "bad alcohol."

Other opponents of the resolution argued that any anti-alcohol movement by the League might be considered a disguised attempt to enforce prohibition in various countries.

Louis Loucheur of France insisted that the League should not make itself ridiculous by seeking to interfere with the freedom of individuals.

GALE MAROONS EXCURSIONISTS ON SHORES OF LAKE WINNIPEG

Winnipeg, Sept. 19.—Without adequate food supplies and unable to communicate with the outside world, between 250 and 300 persons are marooned at Grand Beach and Victoria Beach on the eastern shores of Lake Winnipeg.

A violent gale which swept the lake throughout Saturday and Sunday whipped the water into mountainous waves which pounded away at a neck of a peninsula throughout which twenty miles of Canadian National Railway track is laid. Sunday this low-lying area was completely submerged and the stranded people have been unable to tackle the agitated lake in the small boats available.

ON SPECIAL EXCURSION
The helpless victims of the storm were on a special excursion to close their summer cottages at two beaches. A special train has been dispatched

OUTBREAK SPREADS IN ALBERTA TOWNS

Infantile Paralysis Closes Schools in All Parts of Province

Edmonton, Alta., Sept. 19.—Figures issued by the Provincial Board of Health at the end of the week indicate that infantile paralysis is definitely on the wane in Edmonton, but that the epidemic is spreading to some extent in outlying districts. Of thirty-four cases reported in various parts of the province during the week, all but eleven, Calgary and Edmonton cases, were in other districts.

Reopening of all city schools on Monday, September 26, if the present favorable conditions continue, will be recommended by Dr. T. H. Whitehead, medical health officer, to a meeting of the City Board of Health on Monday.

From all parts of the province came reports of schools closing on account of the epidemic.

Vancouver, Sept. 19.—There is no connection between the few scattered cases of infantile paralysis in Vancouver and the outbreak in the interior of the Province and on the prairies, according to Dr. F. T. Underhill, city medical health officer. Occurrences of the disease have been reported in Vancouver in other years, he said, and there is no cause for alarm. No new cases were reported over the week-end.

Plainville, Mass., Sept. 19.—The public schools in this town have been closed for a week because of the death of a child from infantile paralysis. Another child is suffering from the disease.

MOTOR OFFICER DEAD IN NEW WESTMINSTER
New Westminster, Sept. 19.—Motor Officer George MacDonald of the Surrey municipal police force, died early today in the hospital here as the result of injuries received Saturday when thrown from his machine on the Pacific Highway.

to Grand Beach with food supplies and to the stranded people, and repair work on the inundated roadbed as soon as the water recedes. If rail communication can not be quickly established with the marooned excursionists, a lake steamer will be dispatched to the scene.

Sandy Hook, Matlock and Ponemas, along the west shore, reported that the breakwater was two feet under water and that several private docks were swept away. No heavy property damage was done.

A wrecking train with cars of gravel have been sent to the scene to assist in the receding of the water. It is known that grades and tracks have been swept away by the swirling waters at twelve places.

An attempt yesterday to send railway men through to Grand Beach by hand car proved futile, the car being lost at the first break in the rails and the crew receiving a drenching.

HUNTER IS SHOT BUT GETS BIRDS DESPITE WOUNDS

"Bernie" Schwengers Picks Out Grouse on Wing Through Mist of Blood

Story of Hunter's Fortitude and Coolness Related by Companion

Shot in the head and with blood streaming from the wound, B. F. "Bernie" Schwengers, sportsman and prominent business man of this city, is confined to St. Joseph's Hospital today.

He is the first victim of the 1927 hunting season.

He is probably the first man who ever accomplished two difficult shots, dropping both his birds, after having been wounded.

W. A. Davis, who was with him and Mr. Schwengers' young son at the time of the mishap, recounted the experience of the day.

The three men had gone into the Highland District near Forks Lake early yesterday morning, says Mr. Davis. They were hunting through a broken piece of country, slightly apart, when Mr. Schwengers called out to ask what sort of traveling Mr. Davis was finding in that particular area.

"His head was streaming blood," Mr. Davis answered that it was possible and Mr. Schwengers commenced a descent into a valley. Mr. Davis saw him standing behind a tree and at the same time his own dog put up a bird close to him.

Holding his fire, Mr. Davis watched the flight of the bird until it was in a position where Mr. Schwengers was out of his line of the shot. Then, while he still watched it, young Schwengers, who had not seen his father, let go both barrels at the flash of feathers.

Then Davis heard the other cry: "I'm shot in the face."

Mr. Schwengers was still out of sight behind his tree. Suddenly, from somewhere near at hand, Davis saw two birds rise. But he was not thinking of shooting just then. He was far too much perturbed.

He picked both birds off with two shots from his gun and then stepped out into view of his friend who was hastening towards him.

"His head was streaming blood," said Mr. Davis. "I could scarcely believe my eyes. And he had fired and killed two birds a moment before."

ARDUOUS TRAVEL
The party was then two miles from the road. Schwengers was for finding those two birds, but the others hurried him through the woods, for he was bleeding profusely. They finally reached the road, but the birds were only just in time. Mr. Schwengers was slowing weakening.

Mr. Davis says that this strange tale is not without foundation. The birds Mr. Schwengers shot were found. The dog got one and a friend secured the other.

Mr. Schwengers did not want to talk about the accident when questioned in hospital this morning. He smiled, under his turban of gauze and plaster, and seemed to be in a near trance.

"There was one pellet just between the eyes, he said, and six more in the top of his head, all lodged pretty deeply, but he is all right, he added.

"The only thing that worried me was getting out of the woods," Mr. Schwengers added. "I was so weak with loss of blood that I only just made it."

PREMIER MONROE TO GIVE UP LEADERSHIP

Will Not Head Any Newfoundland Party at Next Election, He Says

St. John's, Nfld., Sept. 19.—Premier W. S. Monroe stated this morning that he had advised his colleagues he would not lead any party in the next general election, and that they could not arrange accordingly, if it were desired to hold the election this Autumn or if they desired to form a coalition government.

Hon. W. S. Monroe became premier in 1924 with a majority of eleven. Dismissals, defections and a defeat in one by-election reduced his lead to one, with which small majority he carried through the work of the last session of the House, which was prorogued on September 6.

A wrecking train with cars of gravel have been sent to the scene to assist in the receding of the water. It is known that grades and tracks have been swept away by the swirling waters at twelve places.

An attempt yesterday to send railway men through to Grand Beach by hand car proved futile, the car being lost at the first break in the rails and the crew receiving a drenching.

AMERICAN WAR VETERANS OPEN CONVENTION IN PARIS TO-DAY

The Palace Trocadero, where the American Legion will hold its meetings.

Paris, Sept. 19.—The ninth convention of the American Legion was opened this morning in the famous Trocadero Palace, and in the afternoon fourteen thousand men of the Legion and many of their wives and children marched in a great parade under the Arc de Triomphe and in homage to the Unknown Soldier placed red, white and blue flowers around his grave.

It was the third time in French history that the Arc de Triomphe has been opened to a foreign body.

WARM WEATHER HAS SAVED MILLION IN B.C. GRAIN CROPS

Drying Winds Will Bring Grain Output up to Normal, Barrow Expects

Damage to British Columbia grain crops through heavy fall rains will not be nearly so serious as has been feared at first, Hon. E. D. Barrow, Minister of Agriculture, announced on his return here from the Fraser Valley, where he made a survey of agricultural conditions.

Warm, windy weather has saved enormous quantities of grain which seemed likely to be ruined by early moisture, Mr. Barrow said.

LOSS SUBSTANTIAL
"The net loss in grains from early rains throughout the Fraser Valley will be about twenty-five per cent," Mr. Barrow said. "If the present spell of warm, windy weather had not occurred to dry grain in stock, the loss would have been at least $1,000,000 more than it will be now. The improvement in the weather thus has saved the Province over that amount."

CROP STILL NORMAL
Despite rain losses the grain crop of the valley will be about average, Mr. Barrow said. It promised to be an unusually big crop until damp weather caused serious damage just at harvest time. Large quantities of grain which appeared to be ruined by moisture have been dried out by wind and warmth in the last few days, and will be successfully harvested, the Minister explained.

SASKATOON SHIVERS AS SNOW FREEZES

Snow Flurries on Heels of Northwest Gale in Regina

Saskatoon, Sept. 19.—Saskatoon shivered this morning in a temperature that hovered around the freezing point. At 4.10 o'clock this morning a light snow fell and disappeared quickly. At 9 o'clock a biting wind had frozen the melted snow on city streets. The weather was colder than at any time this season.

Regina, Sept. 19.—Slight snow flurries on the heels of a northwest gale visited this district this morning.

Four New Cases of Infantile Paralysis

Nelson, Sept. 19.—Four cases of infantile paralysis were reported over the week-end, two at Castlegar, one at Kinross, three miles from Castlegar and one at Poucecouche, between Castlegar and Trail.

Opening of the Nelson public schools has been postponed for another week.

FORTY MACHINES ENTERED FOR U.S. AIR DERBY

Prizes Totalling $43,000 for Winners of Three Races; First Starting To-day; Transcontinental Non-stop Flight Starts Wednesday

TWENTY PLANES FINISH FIRST LEG OF FLIGHT

Five of Machines Starting From New York For Spokane Forced Down

Roosevelt Field, N.Y., Sept. 19.—Twenty of the twenty-five planes that started today in the class B flight to Spokane, Wash., in the national air derby, have completed the first leg of the 2,350-mile aerial jaunt and are winging their way westward.

The first leg of the journey was Roosevelt Field to Bellefonte, Pa., beyond the Allegheny Mountains. The second stop will be at Cleveland, Ohio, and the third at Bryan, Ohio, where five-minute stops will be made, thence the planes will head for Chicago, where they will spend the night.

Of the twenty-five entrants who took off this morning in the class B section of the race three were reported down at Home Town, Pa., another, the plane piloted by R. W. Cantwell, of Oklahoma City, landed at Curtis Field, a few miles from the starting point, because of a low ceiling. The fifth to fall on the first leg was the plane of V. G. Roberts, who landed at New Brunswick, N.J., with compass trouble. He started again after losing two hours.

FROM SAN FRANCISCO
On the same day two flights of planes will leave Mills Field, San Francisco, on a one-day race to Spokane, with a single stop at Sand Island airport, Portland, Ore., required. These also will be commercial planes, and will be contestants in class A and class B of the Pacific Air Derby. They will contest for prizes of $5,000 in cash and a trophy offered by the San Francisco Bulletin.

One of the six giant ships entered in the New York-Spokane non-stop race will be piloted by an aviator who already has to his credit one of the year's notable feats—Martin Jensen, who won second place in the Dole non-stop flight in 1926. He will pilot a Ryan Brougham.

ATLANTIC ASPIRANT
Another contestant in the same race set out on a transatlantic flight and was dissuaded from making the effort only by one overnight stop, at St. Paul, Minn. He will pilot a Ryan Brougham. He will pilot a Ryan Brougham.

CLASS A RACE
Entries in the class A race of the National Air Derby from New York contesting for $25,000 in prizes in a race with one overnight stop, at St. Paul, Minn., were announced today at National Air Derby Association headquarters here, as follows: with the pilot named first in hand, the type of ship and the entrant:

R. Hudson, Buhl-Alster, Buhl Aircraft Company, Marysville, Mich.
E. K. Campbell, Tackey monoplanes, Dr. C. Silas, Buhl Aircraft Company, Cleveland, Ohio.

E. W. Cleveland, Ryan Brougham, Cleveland Pneumatic Tool Company, Cleveland.
C. W. Holman, Laird Commercial National Lead Battery Company, St. Paul.

R. C. Weyant, Cessna monoplane, Cessna Air Craft Company, Wichita, Kas.
E. E. Dalloway, Laird Commercial, E. M. Laird Company, Chicago.

H. H. Lee, Tackey monoplane, Robert M. Hoffman, Chicago.
John P. Wood, Waco Whirlwind, John P. Wood, Waco, Wis.

R. E. Dugin, Sikorsky Oriole, Emil Dugin, Minneapolis, Minn.
Frank M. Hawley, Ryan Brougham, Frank M. Hawley, Houston, Tex.

N. B. Namer, Buhl Alster, City of Spokane, Spokane.
Pittsford, Malvern, Pittsford, Inc., Philadelphia.
Tex Rankin, Waco, 10 City of Portland, Oregon.

F. C. O'Donnell, Whittier, California.

THOUSANDS OF FAMILIES MADE HOMELESS BY FLOODS

Mexico City, Sept. 19.—Probably several thousand families are refugees, many having their homes destroyed in consequence of the flooding of perhaps twenty towns and villages and large areas of farm land in the states of Guanajuato, Morelos and Mexico by the inundation from the Lerma River. Only three deaths have so far been reported.

Submerged under eight feet of water, Cambara, important railroad centre in the state of Guanajuato, has been completely isolated from the rest of Mexico since yesterday morning.

Reports from the west coast of Mexico indicate that it is still being swept by storms, which are moving to the northward.

Special dispatches from Lagos, Lower California, report that fifty-three houses were destroyed and many others threatened to collapse because of the floods there caused when two large dams burst, ruining crops throughout the district.

Ideal VECTO Heater

Installed in Living-Room Heats Whole of Small Home for Usual Cost of Heating One Room

THE VECTO is not a mere one-room heater; it was designed to supply constant, genial warmth to every room in a small home (3 to 5 rooms, up to 6,000 cubic feet). Instead of radiating an intense heat for a few feet, as with the old-type heater, the VECTO is constantly drawing in large volumes of cool air at its base and sending it out, warmed, at the top. The illustration below shows the path of the air inside the Heater.

Clean-Cut, Handsome

The Vecto Heater is a welcome addition to the living-room, because of its good looks. It is finished in porcelain enamel in $85.00 f.o.b. Toronto The success of this Heater has enabled us to go into much larger production, thus reducing manufacturing costs. We are, therefore, able to pass on this saving, making the price now only $85.00, which is considerably less than last season. Freight from Toronto to destination is additional.

Scientific Heating the Reason for Fuel Economy

Due to a unique ribbed construction of the body, there are more square feet of heating surface in the Ideal Vecto Heater than in any other known heating device occupying even approximately a similar amount of space. Thus, large volumes of air can be warmed quickly. Further, the one-piece body and the lock-safe door effectively shut out leaks of draft which would, otherwise, force the fire wastefully. Every bit of fuel is turned into heat.

battleship grey, being as easy to clean as china, and the firelight glows cheerily through the Pyrex Glass panels in the door.

It is quickly installed in any room that is fitted with a chimney and is easily portable at moving time.

It is absolutely safe for children, being equipped with a special lock-safe door. Shatter proof in this door enables the shaking of the grates without allowing dust to enter the room. The body is cast all in one piece, leaving no joints through which gas can escape into the house.

Ideal for Hunting Lodges

Summer hotels, hunting lodges, offices, stores—any small building up to 6,000 cubic feet—will find the Vecto the ideal type of low-cost heating.

FIRE IN CAMP

One of the lumber camps of the Victoria Lumber Company at Cowichan Lake was the scene of a fire during the week-end and several carloads of lumber were destroyed by the flames before the workmen finally got the outbreak under control. For a time the fire was alarming in its proportions, but the hard work of loggers put an effectual finish to the blaze.

CHARLES A. LEVINE

AIRMEN QUARREL ON EVE OF FLIGHT ENGLAND TO INDIA

Levine's Delays Lead to Differences With Three Pilots

Granville, England, Sept. 19.—Charles A. Levine, who has quarreled already with three pilots, Lloyd A. Bertand, Clarence Chamberlain, and Maurice Drouhin, was at loggerheads with a fourth Saturday, Captain Walter Hinchcliffe, both before and after their two unsuccessful attempts to take-off for India in Levine's transatlantic plane Columbia.

Their differences developed early Saturday morning, when Levine said that he wouldn't fly because the ground was too wet for a take-off. Hinchcliffe retorted that he was tired of these delays and if he didn't fly that day he would not fly at all. He had reached the end of his patience, he said.

John Carial, superintendent of the Columbia Aircraft Corporation, builders of the plane, supported Levine in his argument and Hinchcliffe told him to "shut up."

Then after two unsuccessful attempts in which the plane, considered overpowered, failed to rise from the ground, Levine left for London. Hinchcliffe followed him to the Grantham railway station and tried to prevail on him to stay here overnight and make the flight Sunday morning. Levine, however, said that private business required him to be in London and left. He said there would be no flights until Monday.

Friction between Levine and his pilot developed early Saturday morning when Levine returned to bed after years, and to extent of $100,000 a year for that period, whereas the conditions which resulted in this additional allowance being made are permanent.

RAILWAY LANDS

"British Columbia has, in addition to the special claims for better financial terms, other questions of considerable importance to the Province to take up at this conference, such as the return of (a) Peace River lands; (b) Return of railway belt.

"The whole question of the claims of British Columbia for better terms will be taken up with a view to securing concessions commensurate with the difficulties of our provincial development.

"One strong feature of the claim to be presented by the Province is the Dominion Government's moral right to enter the field of direct taxation.

"The fact is brought out that during the last five years the per capita revenue collected by the Dominion in British Columbia is larger than the average for the rest of Canada.

"The case to be submitted on behalf of British Columbia is now being prepared, and will be presented by the Premier, and by one other minister, probably the Attorney-General.

AGENDA EXTENSIVE

"The following agenda has been submitted to Ottawa, to include among other matters:

- "1. Review of debt allowances at the time of Confederation.
- "2. Comparison of contributions of revenue by British Columbia to the Dominion as compared with other provinces.
- "3. Comparison of expenditure by the Federal Government in British Columbia, as compared with expenditures in other provinces.
- "4. Federal subsidies.
- "5. Clear definition of the respective fields of direct and indirect taxation.
- "6. Review of the responsibilities of the various Government units in the field of health, education and transportation."

TORONTO DEATH TOLL SIX FOR WEEK-END

Automobiles Responsible For Three and Three Injured

Toronto, Sept. 19.—Six dead, four seriously injured, and a score less seriously hurt, was the toll in Toronto and district over the week-end. Automobile accidents were responsible for four of the deaths and for three of the very seriously injured.

Mrs. William H. Speight, sixty-two, of Toronto, was killed near Bowmanville Sunday when the car in which she was riding was sideswiped by a car driven by Millard Nicholson of Beaver Falls, Pa. Eight persons riding in the two cars were injured.

Norman Seurich, three years old, of Toronto, was killed by a car driven by Fred Dobbs here Saturday. Ball for the release of Dobbs was set at $10,000.

Charles Perry, four-year-old Tipton-ton, was killed by an automobile driven by Lee Hill. Struck by the fender of the car, he was hurled against a fence with such force that he died in the hospital.

BABY STRANDED

Baby Cooper, eighteen months of age, Toronto, was stranded to death in her swing when her sister left her alone for a few moments.

Lorne Smart, twenty-seven, Newmarket, brakeman, was killed Saturday when two C.N.R. freight trains met in a head-on collision near Gormley. Mrs. Robert Pollington, Hamilton, is in a very critical condition as a result of the accident in which Mrs. Speight of this city was killed. Eight others, eighteen, of various ages, are still unconscious and recovery is doubtful as a result of injuries suffered when his motor cycle collided with an automobile.

George G. Mopson, fourteen, of Windsor, was critically injured last night when he was knocked from his bicycle by a car driven by William Thresher.

Mrs. Cohen was very seriously injured Sunday when she fell thirty-five feet from an upper window at her home in Toronto.

CHILDREN'S MALADY ON WANE HERE NOW

Fewer Outbreaks of Disease Reported; End of Problem Believed in Sight

Cases of infantile paralysis are showing a rapid decline all over British Columbia now. Dr. H. E. Young, Provincial Health Officer, stated after he had received reports from affected districts in the interior.

The worst of the outbreak appears to have passed now, Dr. Young said, adding that conditions did not warrant grave alarm.

Fewer cases of the disease have occurred in the last few days than formerly, and if this condition continues the end of the outbreak will be in sight, he stated.

Medical health officers are co-operating with private practitioners in all districts to curb the disease, and have taken every precaution against it. Dr. Young explained. An order forbidding children to leave affected districts for other parts of the Province would not be justified by present conditions, he said.

Remove the dingy film, to which scores of Tooth and Gum troubles now are traced.

Modern dental science now has found a way that restores "off-color" teeth to clearness, that gives toneless gums a healthy coral tint.

Famous movie stars use this way before going on a scene. That's why movie smiles gladden so. Leading dentists urge it widely. For it protects the teeth and firms tender gums.

It is called Pepsodent—a new type tooth paste that works by removing the dingy film coat from teeth that old-time dentifrices did not clear off successfully. That's why brushing fails you. Run your tongue across your teeth and you'll feel that film—a slippery coating that absorbs discolorations and keeps your teeth off color, that breeds bacteria by the millions and invites tooth decay, gum troubles and pyorrhea.

COWICHAN FAIR

ATTRACTS MANY

Wonderful Display of Dahlias and Gladioli at Exhibition; Additional Prize Lists

In the absence of Hon. E. D. Barrow, Minister of Agriculture, who was to have performed the opening ceremonies, the annual Fall Fair of the Cowichan Agricultural Society was formally opened on Saturday by Dr. David Warnock, Deputy Minister of Agriculture.

The exhibition of cut flowers was a feature, gladioli and dahlias being particularly in evidence.

During the afternoon the loggers' sports attracted keen attention. These continued from 2 o'clock until 5.30. The following shows the results of this competition:

Logging competitions, sawing, 10 entries—1, H. Robinson (time, 1:11); 2, C. Marsh (1:17 3-5); 3, H. Purman (1:37). Filer of winning saw, Lee Barrow.

Chopping, 3 entries—1, W. Auchinsch (time, 1:37); 2, H. Robinson (1:41 4-5); 3, C. Marsh (2:10 1-5).

Long splitting, 3 entries—1, Nelson and Mosher (time, 1:20 3-5); 2, Walde and Miles (1:21 3-5); 3, Brown and Parlee (1:22 3-5).

Two man eye splice, 4 entries—1, Walde and Miles (time, 4:34 1-7); 2, Nelson and Mosher (4:44 2-5); 3, Brown and Parlee (4:51 1-5).

One man eye splice, 7 entries—1, W. Mosher (time, 4:48 2-5); 2, H. C. Nelson (4:55); 3, H. Wade (4:51 3-5).

Prizes in all events—First, $25; second, $15; third, $5; filer of the winning saw, $10.

An unfortunate feature marked the closing of the riding and saddle horse contest, when in the last class on the programme, Miss Owen, Price's mount, became unruly, and she was thrown. She quickly picked herself up, but was kicked by the animal as she went to catch the bridle as it passed her. Miss Price was struck in the chest. It is hoped that her injuries are not serious. Additional awards are:

FACTS ABOUT HUSKY

Tells How This Preparation Relieves Constipation and Dizzy Spells After Other Medicines Had Utterly Failed to Help

That Husky, the herb preparation, distributed by the MacFarlane Drug Co., is a true medicine—one that gives help of a permanent nature—is more conclusively proven in Victoria each day. Husky is recommended to relieve stomach, liver, kidney and bowel ailments and their accompanying ills, such as indigestion, gas and sour stomach, headaches, dizzy spells, constipation, rheumatic pains, nervousness, unsteady sleep and weak, tired feelings.

Husky relieves these ailments in the best way, but we do not want to give you our statement alone. We want to let the people of Victoria who are using this preparation to tell you what it does. Therefore we want you to read what Mr. J. L. Garter of 1530 Amelia Street, this city, has to say about Husky. His statement follows:

"I was taking all kinds of laxative medicines trying to get relief from constipation, but nothing seemed to do me any good. The trouble stayed with me and I was feeling miserable much of the time. I would have had dizzy spells often when I would have a swimming feeling and things would turn."

"I had tried most everything else so when I heard about Husky I thought I would take one more chance. I was really surprised when Husky began giving me relief from constipation. It seemed that a feeling of new health and vigor was coming over me as I continued its treatment. I no longer have dizzy spells and the constipation has entirely disappeared. Husky is indeed a medicine of merit and I do not hesitate in endorsing it to the people of Victoria."

CALL AT MACFARLANE DRUG CO.
If you are not enjoying the best of health, you owe it to yourself to call at the MacFarlane Drug Co., Husky headquarters, and let the Husky expert explain to you about this medicine and how the best results are obtained from its use. Husky is helping hundreds in Victoria and it will also help you, if you will only give it the chance.

AMERICA GIVEN SEAT
AS SENIOR DOMINION

League Action Recognizes Claim as Nation of Equal Rights

Sydney, Australia, Sept. 19 (Canadian Press Cable via Reuters)—The Morning Herald in an editorial says: "The election of Canada to a non-permanent seat on the council of the League of Nations stamps with the approval of the most powerful international body in existence, the claim of each Dominion of the Empire to be considered a nation of equal rights and powers with any other nation in the world."

"Canada received the accolade of national knighthood as it were," continues the morning Herald, "and by necessary implication all other Dominions within the Empire received that honor, too. It was only just, that Canada should have been the Dominion selected to receive the primal honor of a seat on the council, for Canada is the senior Dominion of the Empire, as she is also the largest and most populous."

CHINAMAN SHOT ON VANCOUVER STREET

Unidentified Bandit Has Been Preying on Orientals

Vancouver, Sept. 19.—Quong Fong, 32, 432 Pender Street East, was shot and killed at 3 a.m. Sunday in the 300 block Pender Street East by an unidentified bandit, who is reported to have preyed on Chinese residents in that district for the past six weeks. Quong Fong, who lived at the same address, was proceeding home and was walking east in the 300 block Pender Street when they were met by the bandit, who was walking west.

"Give me your money. Give me your money," he ordered at the same time pointing a large revolver at them.

Quong Jack immediately turned and fled west, the robber firing five shots after him from the revolver.

Following the tragedy police gathered in a number of men, who are held for investigation. Some of those arrested at this time had just recently been released from Oakalla and were without shelter or means of support.

A SUCCESSFUL GATHERING

NOW THAT THE PACIFIC FOREIGN
Trade Council's annual meeting has passed into history it is fitting to extend hearty congratulations to all who in any way were identified with the arrangements for the gathering. The admirable manner in which everything was conducted was the subject of enthusiastic comment from the delegates, who declared this year's convention to be the best in the history of the organization. This is a compliment of which Victoria has reason to be proud, for these meetings have been held in the largest cities of the Pacific Coast. It is more than ordinarily gratifying to record the outstanding success of last week's gathering because it was the first time that the Council had met outside of the United States.

Victoria will benefit considerably from the three-day visit of so many prominent businessmen from the other side of the line. A number of the delegates were in Victoria for the first time, and they became deeply interested in its resources and prospects, while those who were not strangers seemed to find new interest in their renewal of old associations. Also this locality received valuable publicity from reports of the Council's proceedings abroad. At no time in its history perhaps has Victoria figured in the news columns of so many newspapers of this continent as it did for practically the whole of last week.

ANOTHER STALEMATE

called a general election in the Irish Free State he did so in the hope that he would go back into office with a working majority in the Dail Eireann; and his chances were considered favorable. But the result of the polling in 127 seats out of 153 leaves matters very much as the general election last June left them. It gives the Cosgrave party forty-nine seats, Independents eleven, and Farmers four, a total Government strength of sixty-four.

Against this the de Valera party gets forty-nine, Labor eleven, National League two, and Larkinites one, an Opposition of sixty-three. It will be seen from these figures that the smaller parties have been the principal losers. In the last Dail, fifty-five out of the 153 seats were occupied by Laborites, Independents, Farmers, and National League members, representing a gain for these elements of nine seats on that occasion.

Some doubts already are being expressed as to whether President Cosgrave would consent to form another government if the margin in his favor is no greater than the returns to date suggest it will be. He has not made any comment himself, nor is Mr. de Valera communicative. Commentators say one thing is certain, however, and that is there will not be another election. Neither party could afford it. Meanwhile speculation centres upon the count in the twenty-six ridings yet to be heard from.

Although the distribution of voting strength in the Dail looks as if it will be about even, it should be remembered that this does not imply an even distribution of opinion on the Anglo-Irish Treaty. An analysis of the total vote last June, for instance, shows that the constitutional total was no less than 797,079, compared with the anti-Treaty vote of 350,277, or a majority for the constitution of 446,802. That poll, moreover, showed that very little change in this regard had taken place; it was merely a new distribution of votes between the different sections of the two main antagonists. Until the votes on this occasion have been analyzed we shall not know if the de Valera campaign has made any headway or not.

THE DEPARTMENT OF INDUSTRIES

REPORTS ISSUED BY THE DEPARTment of Industries prove that the work it is doing is extremely valuable in an industrial sense at a surprisingly low cost. Over a period of years this branch of the public service of the Province has collected a large fund of information on secondary industries that are possible of development in British Columbia. Some of these already have been started as a result of work done. The pilchard and fish reduction industry of the West Coast, the loganberry wine industry of Saanich and the Mainland, are cases in point. Most people know that the Sidney Roofing and Paper Company, one of Victoria's largest enterprises, was assisted to the success into which it has developed by the Department of Industries. The Hiker Manufacturing Company and the Canada Western Woodworkers also have received assistance from the same source.

Much research work has been undertaken by the Department in respect of the production of tobacco in British Columbia and the progress already made is largely due to aid given by this governmental service. Nor should it be forgotten that the issue of special reports from time to time has resulted in other forms of development. The paper bag industry owes its establishment to the efforts of the Department. Perhaps little public mention has been made of these matters; but the annual reports are available to all who want to know what has been done and what is being done. Steps are being taken to get a plant established for the manufacture of glass bottles. The Department has called attention in proper quarters to the facilities for importing suitable glass sand in grain ships, and has pointed out that there is no reason why the finished article could not be turned out in this Province as cheaply as elsewhere. Its research work in connection with the flax and linen industry, the possibilities of the sugar beet industry, oil crushing, utilizing copra and soya bean, and investigations in respect to the clays of British Columbia no doubt will yield profitable results.

We submit that the work of the Department of Industries, a Department established under abnormal conditions, never regarded as the soundest of economic enterprises for a Government to embark upon, has been surprisingly effective and, as the years go by, yielding further evidences of its investigations and assistance, it will more than have justified itself. Incidentally, compared with an annual administrative vote of only $9,590, the aid it already has been able to give to industrial expansion is striking indeed.

A few days ago our morning contemporary criticized the Department of Industries on the ground that it was doing nothing to promote industrial expansion. As invariably happens when it tries to make a little political capital against the Government, it either disregards facts or does not trouble itself to inform itself on them. The plant of the Sidney Roof and Paper Company, for example, is visible through our contemporary's windows. More excellent patrons of The Colonist are satisfied shareholders in the local loganberry wine industry. Are we to assume that our contemporary is not aware of the existence of these two concerns?

WHAT OTHER PAPERS SAY

THE LATE VISCOUNT DEERHURST
From The Worcestershire (England) Chronicle

True to the Coventry family tradition, Lord Deerhurst had for many years taken a diligent part in the public work of the county and of the district in which he lived. He recognized fully the duty attaching to his position as a country gentleman, heir to a historic peerage.

As justice of the peace, county and district councillor, officer of the Territorial forces, and in other capacities, he regularly brought to the common stock much practical knowledge of affairs, independent judgment and courageous treatment of whatever question or problem it became his duty to handle. Those who worked with him respected a virile personality and appreciated genuine goodness of heart.

Needless to say, the late Lord Deerhurst will be missed by colleagues and public and not easily forgotten by any who were associated with him. The gravity of his illness was not generally understood outside the family circle till within the last week. It seemed but the other day that he was engaged with his usual activity about the various duties to which he paid unwavering devotion. The news of actual danger came as a shock to the people of the district that was followed by tidings of the fatal issue almost before the end truth was realized.

The deepest sympathy is felt for the bereaved Viscount—whose co-operation in many good movements is highly valued—and her children, and for the venerable Earl and Countess who see their eldest son and heir thus taken untimely from the earthly scene.

This, it has been noticed, is the third time during the history of the Coventry peerage that the son of an Earl of Coventry, bearing the courtesy title of Viscount Deerhurst, has succumbed in the life of his father.

The first Viscount thus fated was Thomas Henry Coventry, born in 1721, who died unmarried in 1744, six years before the death of his father. A newspaper of the time speaks of his "regularity at Oxford, his modesty, sobriety, good sense, temper, humanity and disinclination to satire." Evidently he would have adorned the position to which he was thought to have been born.

His uncle George William, who succeeded to the earldom when it became vacant, had a brilliant place in eighteenth century society and set a great example of practical service to his country, holding the title till 1809, a period of fifty-nine years—easily beaten by the record of the present lord, who has been Earl of Coventry for no fewer than eighty-four years.

The second of the three instances in which the Viscount Deerhurst of this day has not succeeded to the title is furnished by the father of the present peer, who died aged thirty in 1838, five years before the death of the then earl. By the by, it was the earl of that time who made an alliance with the Beauchamp family, having married as his first wife, at Madresfield in 1808, Emma Beauchamp, daughter of William Lygon, first Earl Beauchamp.

Hon. T. G. Coventry, M.L.A., Member for Saanich is a brother of the late Viscount Deerhurst.

Canadian Questions and Answers

CANADIAN APPLE EXPORTS

Q.—What are Canada's apple exports?
A.—It is estimated that exports of Canadian apples in 1926 amounted to 1,388,493 barrels worth $6,260,188. The bulk of the exports went to the British Isles, which in 1926 took 1,290,050 barrels worth $5,743,009. Other heavy purchasers are the United States, New Zealand, Sweden, Newfoundland, Sweden, China, Hongkong and Denmark. The principal apple growing provinces in Canada are Nova Scotia, Ontario and British Columbia, though New Brunswick and Quebec grow apples and several other fruits such as pears and plums, in commercial quantities.

MCGEER HERE TO CONFER ON RATES

Counsel Advises Government on Latest Developments in Railway Situation

G. G. McGeer, British Columbia Government freight rate counsel, arrived here to-day and went into conference with Premier MacLean and his colleagues at the Parliament Buildings on rate questions raised by recent judgments of the Railway Board.

Mr. McGeer has stated publicly that he is not satisfied with these judgments and came here to explain his views to the Government.

Premier MacLean has postponed any action on rates until he can hear more about the recent orders of the Railway Commission and their precise effect on British Columbia business. The reasons for the board's decisions, which are expected to make these matters clearer, have not been issued at Ottawa yet.

ISLAND BREEDERS HOLD EXHIBITION

Many Sheep Entries Received From All Parts of the Island at Duncan Fair

Duncan, Sept. 18.—A large attendance rewarded the efforts of the Vancouver Island Sheepbreeders' Association who last week held their first sheep fair here. More than 300 animals were gathered together for the prize ring, and 100 grade ewes were offered by auction for distribution throughout the island.

Entries were received from practically all centres on the south of the island. Grade classes were very well represented, the judges remarking that it was a wonderful display of grade sheep. The principal breed exhibited were Shropshires, with Suffolks and Oxford. A few examples of purebred Suffolks as well as Capt. Barkley. Results in the fair were as follows:

Ram, 2 shear and over—1 and 2, G. H. Hadwen; 3, Capt. J. D. Groves; 4, Whitney Griffiths Bros.

APPEALS AGAINST EXTRADITION ORDER

Proceedings Started on Behalf of Father O'Connor of Alabama

Vancouver, Sept. 19.—On an appeal from the ruling of County Court Judge H. S. Cayley, who acted as an extradition commissioner, ordering the extradition of Father Patrick A. O'Connor to the state of Alabama to answer an alleged charge of performing a criminal operation, E. L. Macdonald, counsel for O'Connor, appeared before Justice W. A. Macdonald in the Supreme court here to-day in habeas corpus proceedings to upset the order of extradition. The defence set forth is that the offence was alleged to have been committed on a federal reserve, in the state, and it is contended therefore that the state authorities are without power to demand the extradition of the accused.

The case is proceeding.

MILD CRIME WAVE INVADES VANCOUVER

Six Burglaries, One Hold-up and Numerous Petty Thefts

Vancouver, Sept. 19.—Continuing the mild crime wave that invaded the city a short time ago, six cases of breaking and entering, one holdup and numerous petty thefts were reported to police over the week-end.

Hearing the crash of broken glass while standing at Cordova and Abbot Streets at 3:30 a.m. Sunday, Constable L. Cuthbert investigated and found the window of Campbell & Griffin's store at 144 Cordova Street, broken and a man fleeing from the scene with a suitcase and some clothing.

The man dropped his loot and started to run west on Cordova Street south on Cambie to Water, and the lane behind the C.P.R. tracks, closely pursued by Constable Cuthbert, who was joined by Constable Goss. Shots fired by the officer failed to halt the pursuit of the thief and he disappeared among the box cars on the tracks.

His description tallied with that of the bandit who shot and killed a Chinaman about two hours previously.

H. Pearce, Second Avenue West, reported his residence entered and $15 stolen.

DAYLIGHT BURGLARY
A bold daylight burglary was perpetrated Sunday afternoon when between 1 and 6 o'clock thieves entered the Owl Drug Store, 502 Granville Street, and stole over $200 and six Everharp pencils. Entrance was gained by cutting the panel of the rear door.

The store of W. Bernstein, 915 Georgia Street W. was entered and clothing stolen.

William James Fox, New York, was badly beaten and robbed of $157 by three men at Cambie and Dunsmuir Streets early Saturday morning.

A few cents were stolen by thieves who broke into the store of R. Craig, 524 Main Street.

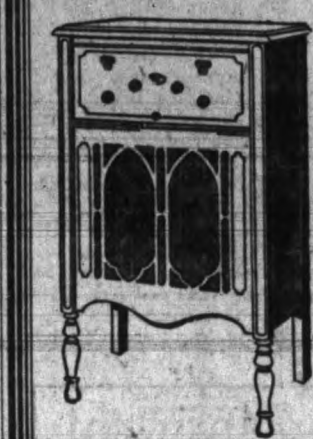

Jewelry formed the loot of burglars who invaded the home of F. Sangster, 1651 Sixth Avenue East.

Walter Leek, Boulder Hotel, complained his room had been entered and $16 taken while a room growler entered the room at No. 74 Rockwell, Burrard Hotel, and stole $105 while the occupant slept. Elmer Casser, Cambie Street, was arrested by police later and charged with the latter theft.

DELIVERY CAR DRIVER KILLED IN COLLISION

Clifford Harmer Dies When Motor and Street Car Meet at Crossings

Man and Debris Dragged 169 Feet; Inquest Set For Tomorrow Morning

Crushed and mangled when the light delivery wagon he was driving came into collision with a street car on Richmond Road on Saturday afternoon, Clifford H. Harmer, forty-nine, of 1019 Caledonia Avenue, was instantly killed. His mutilated body, the left arm being severed at the elbow, was discovered among the wreckage of the automobile, under the forward part of the street car which had become derailed by the smash. The collision occurred where Forester Street runs into the main highway, formerly known as Mount Tolmie Road.

An inquest will be held to-morrow morning. Frederick W. Doherty, of 963 North Park Street, driver of the street car, will give testimony at the court of inquiry. A. D. King, legal adviser of the B.C. Electric Railway, of which company Doherty is an employee, will appear as counsel for the motorman. The collision occurred 3.55 p.m. on Saturday. Within a few minutes of the accident Constable Robert Brown of the Saanich Police was at the scene. Chief of Police Allen Rankin also arrived shortly afterwards.

DRAWN DOWN GRADE. Police secured information which explained the manner of the mishap. Harmer was driving a New Method Laundry wagon west on Forester Street, and the street car was proceeding south, bound for the city. After the impact the heavier vehicle dragged the delivery truck about 169 feet, before the mangled mass finally came to a standstill with the stopping of the car. There is quite a grade downhill over which the street car was traveling at the time of impact.

There were four women and a man, besides the operator, aboard the street car at the time of the accident. Harmer's body was removed to McCall's Funeral Parlor under instructions from Coroner Dr. E. C. Hart. Mr. Harmer was a man of fine character, well liked among his fellow employees, and highly esteemed by his employers. He came to Victoria eight years ago to join the staff of the New Method Laundry, having been associated with the New Method Laundry at Toronto, prior to coming here. The banquet of employees which was to have been held at the Dominion Hotel Saturday night was postponed owing to the tragic death of Mr. Harmer. Mr. Harmer was born in Kelling, Norfolk, England, and served in India with the regulars for eighteen years. Later he went to Toronto and at the outbreak of the war joined the 124th Battalion of Toronto as regimental sergeant-major. He was transferred overseas to the Canadian Engineers as regimental quartermaster-sergeant. Joining the forces in 1913 he did not get his discharge until 1919. When in India he joined the Masonic craft.

The widow, a son and daughter survive.

VICTORIAN BACK FROM CONVENTION

J. W. Lorimer Elected Grand Esquire of Canadian Elksdom at Recent Hamilton Meeting

A high honor was bestowed upon J. W. Lorimer, exalted ruler of Victoria Lodge No. 2, B.P.O.E., when he was elected grand esquire of Elksdom in the Dominion of Canada and Newfoundland at the annual Grand Lodge convention held recently at Hamilton, Ontario.

Ald. Gerald Sims of Ottawa was elected grand exalted ruler to succeed Col. Royal Burritt, D.S.O. of Winnipeg.

Other officers elected were as follows: Ex-Mayor Sinclair Elliott, Watrous, Sask., grand esteemed loyal knight; Norman Nicholson, Hamilton, Ont., grand esteemed lecturing knight; Col. one Royal Burritt, Winnipeg, Man., grand secretary (by acclamation); W. W. Poole, Sherbrooke, Que., grand treasurer; J. Alexander Killingsworth, St. Thomas, editor and manager of The Canadian Elk, official organ of the order in Canada, and which, in future, will be published monthly instead of quarterly; A. J. Costigan, Winnipeg, re-elected chairman of the grand judiciary committee; W. McQuinn, Edmonton, Alta., grand inner guard; George J. Lynch, Brandon, grand sylvan; Thomas V. Bell, Montreal, grand chaplain; S. S. Savage, Calgary, Alta., grand trustee (two-year term); and Dr. B. Westrup, St. John, N.B., grand trustee (one-year term).

The convention was attended by seventy-six delegates who represented 162 Elks' lodges in Canada and Newfoundland. Mr. Lorimer stated upon his return to the city after representing the Victoria lodge at the meetings.

The total membership of Elksdom in Canada and Newfoundland is now 15,867, an increase of 1,588 members during the last year.

Frozen Custard

Three cups milk, 1 1/4 cups granulated sugar, 1 1/2 tablespoons flour, 4 eggs, 2 cups whipping cream, 1/4 teaspoon salt, 1 tablespoon vanilla. Beat eggs slightly. Mix and sift sugar, flour and salt and beat into eggs. Heat milk to scalding point in top of double boiler. Slowly add to egg mixture, stirring constantly. Return to double boiler and cook, stirring carefully until mixture coats the spoon. Remove from heat and let cool. When cold, add vanilla and cream whipped until firm. Turn into mold and freeze in six parts ice to one part ice cream salt. It will take about three hours to freeze without stirring.

ADVERTISE IN THE TIMES

NEWS IN BRIEF

A general meeting of members of the Pro Patrio branch of the Canadian Legion of the B.E.L. will take place on Wednesday in the club room, 525 Courtney Street at 8 o'clock.

A decree absolute of divorce was granted to Walter Franklin Mathews, petitioning against his wife, Eva Beatrice Milne Mathews, by Mr. Justice Morrison in Supreme Court to-day. The suit was undefended.

The monthly meeting of Branch No. 18 Tuberculosis Veterans' Association of the Canadian Legion will be held in the clubrooms, Langley and Yates Streets, at 8 p.m. on Tuesday, September 20. The members are urged to attend, as there are several items of importance to be decided upon.

For about a year Weatherly, it is reported, was employed at the mine, which is on Taku Arm, about twenty miles from Atlin, as blacksmith. He left on July 28 last, according to police, and on the same day Harold Elmore, miner at Engineer Mine, complained of the theft of a nugget chain, valued at $50, and $25 in cash, and charged Weatherly with the offence.

Provincial police took up the chase from Northern British Columbia to California, where the missing blacksmith was eventually located in Los Angeles.

Following arrest, the case assumed a more serious aspect, when Provincial police charged Weatherly with theft of gold amalgam from the Engineer Mine. The quantity of missing ore has not been definitely determined, although the charge concerns a few ounces.

WATER MAIN WORK IS BEING PUSHED

Improved water supply for industrial purposes in the Victoria West and Industrial Reserve areas will be an accomplished fact in about two weeks' time, it was stated by F. M. Preston, City Engineer to-day.

Work of laying the twelve-inch supplementary main down Johnson Street, in the centre of the new road, approved by the city, against the water's edge, is progressing fast.

The new service, to be fed from Goldstream main, will be connected up with a six-inch supply system now on the reserve, and will afford increased pressure for all users of water for industrial purposes in the area.

Immediate benefit in the new installation will be found by the new pulp plant of the Sidney Roofing and Paper Company Limited, and by other firms requiring large quantities of water for their business.

The added provision will also assist fire prevention work, and will give increased pressure for fire-fighting purposes.

Chinaman Sentenced To Three-year Term

Vancouver, Sept. 19.—Wong Yuen, one of the figures in the recent Sherman Hotel case, as the outcome of which Yip was last week sentenced to three years' imprisonment, was ordered by Magistrate Shaw to the penitentiary for two years. In addition a fine of $200 was imposed, with a further three months' imprisonment in default of payment.

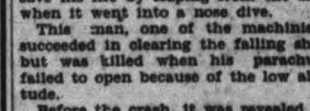

Yuen was found guilty of selling drugs, purchases totaling about $189 being made by a member of the R.C.M.P., marked money being afterwards found on the accused.

On account of the assistance he afterwards gave the authorities, the court imposed a lighter sentence than otherwise would have been given.

CAPTAIN THOUGHT HIS VESSEL PASSED ROCK HE SAYS AT INQUIRY

Master of Charlotte Tells How Echoes in Fog Led Him to Believe His Ship Had Gone Past Vichnefski Rock; Engines Were Ordered to Full Speed and Course Altered; Inquiry Into Crash Opened This Morning Before Wreck Commissioner Capt. J. D. Macpherson

"I felt satisfied in my own mind that at 9.10 o'clock, the Charlotte had passed Vichnefski Rock. I again put the engines to full speed and set a course northward by east for Young's Point. At 9.15 o'clock we saw the light on the rock."

We stopped and stopped, all in a flash," said Captain C. G. Saintry, master of the C.P.R. vessel Princess Charlotte at the inquiry into the grounding of the Princess Charlotte on Vichnefski Rock on August 28. The inquiry commenced before Captain J. D. Macpherson, wreck commissioner, in the Post Office Building this morning with Captain M. F. Cutler and Capt. R. L. Macpherson as assessors.

Most of Captain Saintry's evidence was heard this morning before the inquiry adjourned at noon for luncheon. A detailed questioning was made of the navigation of the Charlotte from the time she passed Cape Decision until she struck.

It was established that the accident could not be set down to faulty compasses or faulty steering.

FIFTEEN KNOTS PER HOUR

On the course from Juneau to Cape Decision en route to Wrangell, the compass worked properly, said Capt. Saintry. The vessel passed Cape Decision at 5.08 p.m. on August 30. The Charlotte was proceeding at her cruising speed of fifteen knots per hour in deep accurate calculations of course.

When the ship passed St. Alban's buoy, fog banks were rolling in and the vessel was in the middle of a dense fog. At Helen Point, the position of the vessel was definitely established, the rock being slightly to the westward.

GOOD ECHO

Proceeding to Calypso Point, a good echo was available and the position was again definitely ascertained. It was still daylight at this time, the ship having reached Calypso Point at 8.15 p.m. Through the passage to Vichnefski Rock, which is two miles wide, the vessel was forced to navigate by echo.

At ordinary cruising speed, with engines turning over 130 revolutions per minute, Vichnefski Rock would have been reached thirty-three minutes after leaving Calypso Point at 8.15 p.m. The engines were at that time turning over at 135 revolutions per minute which would have brought her to Vichnefski in thirty-one minutes.

SHIP STOPPED

After proceeding for twenty-five minutes, the ship was brought to a dead stop, Capt. Saintry continued, thinking the vessel had struck a rock or a shoal.

Over a mile from the rock, here, while the vessel was getting equal echoes from Level Island and Zarembo Island to make sure the vessel was in the middle of the passage, after three minutes, the vessel went ahead at slow speed, steering by echoes.

At 8.54 p.m. the Charlotte was again stopped to make sure of echoes and at 8.58 she proceeded slowly. After going ahead a few minutes the echo on the port shore appeared to be ahead of the vessel, said Capt. Saintry, and the engines were ordered full speed ahead and course altered.

TWO CABLES FROM LIGHT

The Charlotte struck on the south-western ledge of the rock, two cables from the unwatched light.

ANCHOR READY

The anchors were gotten ready in case of need, and the vessel slowly drifted until help arrived. There was a patent anchor on the starboard and an old fashioned anchor on the port. The wreck commissioner suggested it would have been better after Capt. Saintry had thought himself past the rock to wait an extra few minutes in order to make sure before altering his course. If this had been done she would have missed the side of the rock, he thought. Capt. Saintry agreed with him, the extra minute might have averted it, but with the echoes convincing him that he had passed the rock, it seemed safe to proceed. Capt. Saintry also pointed out that if the ship had passed the point two hours or so later, she would have gone right over the point where she grounded.

No attempt was made to pull her off with the engines, because, being low water, she was safe where she was and a backward pull might have torn her.

DANGEROUS POINTS

Helen Point and Vichnefski Rock, Capt. Saintry considered to be the two most dangerous points on the outside route from Cape Decision to Wrangell, he told the commission. It was explained, the Charlotte was forced to take the outside route owing to dredging operations in Wrangell Narrows prohibiting that route.

The hearing resumes at 1.30 p.m. to-day.

D. E. McTaggart appeared as counsel.

MINISTER PLEAS BY B.C. PROGRESS

Pattullo Finds Rapid Development During Trip Through North of Province

Hon. T. D. Pattullo, Minister of Lands, returned to the Parliament Buildings to-day after a northern tour which took him into the wilds of the Queen Charlotte Islands and to the country fringing the Skeena River.

"Everywhere are signs of British Columbia's progress," Mr. Pattullo declared. "Development goes on on all sides. No one who has seen the progress of the North in the last few years can fail to return here an optimist about the future of the Province."

Mr. Pattullo said he was particularly struck with the development of the Queen Charlotte Islands, the resources of which are just beginning to be appreciated.

"The more I travel up to the North by water the more I realize the value of the great inland passage for steamships," the minister remarked. "The passage is worth untold millions to the Province in facilitating transportation from one end of it to the other. If the Yukon States could have such a passage from Puget Sound down to San Francisco it would pay practically any price to secure it."

GYROS TALK OVER SHOW AND REVIEW WORK ACCOMPLISHED

Interest in "The Red Widow" Is Keen; Orphanage and Children's Aid Thank Club

Members of the Gyro Club at their luncheon to-day harked to full details in connection with the show which they will produce at the Royal Victoria Theatre on Thursday, Friday and Saturday of next week. The show, which the Gyros have selected this year from a long list submitted to them is the musical comedy, "The Red Widow," written by Channing Pollock.

Gyro Aid Chivalry explained that rehearsals were going ahead splendidly and that the cast included the finest amateur talent in this city. He announced that the eleven members had been arranged in six groups and would be turned loose to-day on a ticket-selling campaign. Already several large orders for parties had been received, and there appeared little question that the show would go over in big style.

REVIEWS WORK

Gyro Harry Dawson, chairman of the Orphanage Committee, related the work which the club had done at the B.C. Orphanage and expressed the hope that the club would see fit to carry out further work there. The Gyros had fixed up the indoor playground, built a new outdoor playground, painted most of the interior of the building and provided eight new cots. Thirty-two additional cots were required, he said. Nearly $700 had been spent in making conditions a little more pleasant for the orphans, said Gyro Dawson.

Gyro Harold Buttress, president of the Chairman's Aid Society, also reported that the question of renovating the interior of the home of the society had been completed by the Gyros. While the children were at camp the Gyros carried out improvements to the home.

President Archie Willis reported that letters of thanks had been received by the club from both the Orphanage and Children's Aid Society.

OFFICERS ELECTED BY Y'S MEN'S CLUBS

Vancouver, Sept. 19.—Chosen for a second term, A. Wetmore of Tacoma, was elected district governor of the Pacific and Northwest Branch of the Y's men's clubs at the annual convention here Saturday and Sunday.

William Borrie, Vancouver, was elected lieutenant-governor, and Gaylord Louie, Bellingham, secretary-treasurer.

REDS START TROUBLE AS AMERICAN LEGION CONVENES IN FRANCE

Paris, Sept. 19.—The American Red Front flags were torn down, several shops fired and a lot of noise punched in anti-American Legion demonstrations at Glichy to-day. The extremists had gathered at this place outside the city because of the police precautions taken to prevent any demonstrations in Paris. Glichy is a communist community and the place where the Reds gather regularly on Sunday and police only interfere when trouble starts.

TO WIDEN ROAD

Re-paving and Widening of Belleville Street at Docks Proposed

Superannuation and Other Issues Before City Council To-day

The re-paving of Belleville Street from Monday to Tuesday, in conjunction with a widening of the roadway there by the elimination of the southerly boulevard at the C.P.R. dock intersection, will be recommended to the City Council to-day in a report of its public works committee. The work would cost in the neighborhood of $4,500.

The City Council has two sessions mapped out for to-day, the first commencing at 3 p.m., when the industrial committee and other members of the council will meet Hon. F. A. Pauline, B.C. Agent-General in London, and others interested in the worsted mill project. This meeting, which will be in the nature of an informal discussion, is called chiefly to determine the city's course in the matter.

Agent-General in London, and others interested in the worsted mill project. This meeting, which will be in the nature of an informal discussion, is called chiefly to determine the city's course in the matter.

At the close of the first meeting the council will reconvene to discuss with members of the City Police Commission the question of civic pensions. At the close of the second session, the superannuation committee will meet a delegation from the Civic Employees' Protective Association on the same issue and to-morrow will hold a conference with the city building officials.

Attention to the trouble caused by the neglect to apply for a building permit for garage and other incidental building work is called by the board of the Zoning Board is expected to make some reference to the fact that much of its work comes from cases where a building has been erected before the city building officials have been consulted as to the plans. Permits are necessary in all cases where building is planned and must be taken out before work starts at the site, it is stated.

WILL START SOAP FACTORY IN CITY

Former Regina Business Man to Found His Business Here

The projected establishment in Victoria of a factory to manufacture glycerine-pumice hand soap is announced through J. M. Young, a former prairie resident, now resident in this city. The organization is to be known as the Glycerine-Pumice Soap Company.

Mr. Young was identified with the manufacture of the product in Regina, but suffered reverses from ill-health and the death of his business associate, the late J. W. Thomas. Now he is ready to start again, this time in Victoria, it is stated.

A market for the product formerly made under the direction of Mr. Young exists on the prairies, and can be duplicated here, it is contended. The machinery for the new factory is already in the city, and a choice of location will be the next step made.

MORAL CLINIC FOR BOYS IS ADVOCATED BY REV. W. SCOTT

Gyros Listen to Earnest Plea of Speaker on "Boy Environment"

Advocating a moral clinic in Victoria to help save boys from being deviated in life, Rev. William Scott close a very interesting address to-day before the Gyro Club on "Boy Environment."

The speaker related the part played by heredity, environment and self in the building of the character of a boy, but contended that environment had the greatest influence.

"There are boys in Victoria who appear in rags and seem to have little prospect in life, who have latent potentialities that would make them into great men provided they were placed in the proper environment," stated Rev. Mr. Scott. "If we spend a little money looking after these boys we may save the country considerable expense looking after them as criminals."

A little care, attention and human kindness would do a lot to encourage and help these boys.

Rev. Mr. Scott told of the great work the Y.M.C.A. was doing, and of what it could do were it relieved of its overhead. This led him to tell of some experience with which he had been brought in contact in this city of men who appeared to be drifting into "suicide," he stated. "They drift the other way."

He thought that a moral clinic in Victoria would be a great help.

In thanking the speaker for his address President Archie Willis thought that the question of a moral clinic might be well considered by all service clubs in Victoria. For some time the clubs had been wanting some worth-while objective before uniting their forces. This appeared a great work for all service clubs, contended Mr. Willis.

League Recognizes Canada as Nation

Says Mackenzie King in Commenting on Election to World League Seat

Ottawa, Sept. 19 (Canadian Press).—A definite recognition of Canada's nationhood is implied in her election to one of the non-permanent seats on the council of the League of Nations, says Premier Mackenzie King in a statement handed to the press. The statement follows:

"The members of the Government are highly gratified by the election of Canada to one of the non-permanent seats on the council of the League of Nations. Our election to the league council at this time implies not only a definite recognition of our individuality as a nation, but, I think, may justly be regarded as an indication of the high esteem in which Canada is held by other member states of the League. Especially pleasing and noteworthy has been the manner in which the British press has expressed approval of Canada's election to the council as evidenced in the views of The Times that should have been more emphatic international affirmation of that historical definition of the British Imperial relationship given at the last Imperial conference. Cordial messages of congratulation have been received on behalf of the Government of Great Britain from Sir Austen Chamberlain and from Mr. Herbert, Prime Minister of the Union of South Africa."

"It is a happy coincidence that this high honor and responsibility should have come to Canada in the year of our Diamond Jubilee. It is unnecessary to add that the participation of Canada in world affairs will be directed by those ideals of tolerance and goodwill which have happily guided us in the past in both our domestic and external relations."

Pretoria, South Africa, Sept. 19 (Canadian Press Cable, via Reuters).—Premier J. B. M. Hertzog, on behalf of the government and the people of South Africa, has called congratulations to Premier Mackenzie King on the election of Canada to a non-permanent seat on the council of the League of Nations.

It is a happy coincidence that this high honor and responsibility should have come to Canada in the year of our Diamond Jubilee. It is unnecessary to add that the participation of Canada in world affairs will be directed by those ideals of tolerance and goodwill which have happily guided us in the past in both our domestic and external relations."

LEAGUE HOLDS OVER HUNGARIAN DISPUTE

Sir Austen Chamberlain's Resignation From Chairmanship Refused

Geneva, Sept. 19.—The council of the League of Nations after being occupied all morning with discussion of the Roumanian-Hungarian controversy over the rights of the latter's nationals owning land in Transylvania to-day voted to postpone further consideration of the disputes until its December session.

Sir Austen Chamberlain, chairman of the committee, whose report on the question was under consideration, resigned from the chairmanship. The council, however, refused to accept his resignation.

Chamberlain's resignation followed upon Hungary's refusal to the last to accept the findings.

OBITUARY

The funeral of the late Lionel Frederick Harrison whose accidental death occurred at Duncan Wednesday took place Saturday afternoon. Funeral service was held at the Thompson Funeral Home, 1625 Quadra Street, at 3 o'clock when the Rev. H. V. Hitchcock, rector of St. Mark's Church, officiated. The hymn sung was "Abraham, Isaac and Jacob." "Eternal Peace" was sung by Mrs. M. M. Morton. Mr. Lawton Partington presided at the organ. There was a very large attendance of sympathizers present and the beautiful floral designs which covered the casket and hearse bore testimony to the esteem in which the late Mr. Harrison was held by his many friends. Thomas Turley, A. O. Cook, W. H. Robertson, B. C. Peet, J. A. Dewar and Samuel Heyworth acted as pallbearers. The remains were laid to rest in the Royal Oak Burial Park.

The remains of the late John Green, of 89 Ontario Street, who passed away at the Jubilee Hospital last night, are reported at the B.C. Funeral Chapel pending burial arrangements.

FIFTY ACCIDENTS GREATER VANCOUVER

One Child Killed, Four Persons Injured Over Week-end

Truck Driver Faces Manslaughter Charge For Boy's Death

Vancouver, Sept. 19.—One child is dead and four persons are injured as a result of more than fifty traffic accidents reported to Greater Vancouver police over the week-end.

George H. Drew, 6301 Nanaimo Street, truck driver for Kelly Douglas Company, faces a charge of manslaughter following the death Saturday night in the General Hospital of Hiroshi Fukuyama, three years of age.

The little Japanese boy received a fractured skull when he was struck by a truck allegedly driven by Drew at Powell and Dunlevy Streets Saturday. According to a report made to police by Drew, the little boy darted in front of his truck.

Drew was released on bail bonds of $5,000.

SERIOUSLY INJURED

Mrs. William Stark, Union Street, was seriously injured when an automobile driven by her husband figured in a spectacular collision with another car driven by Harry Bruno at Forty-ninth Avenue and Granville Street Sunday afternoon. Mrs. Stark was taken to the General Hospital. Bruno suffered a badly lacerated scalp while his wife and three children were also shaken up.

Morris Solomon, Sixth Avenue and Columbia Street, was admitted to St. Paul's Hospital Saturday with injuries received when his bicycle was struck by an automobile driven by William Pearson, Oak Street, at Beatty and Fender Streets.

Struck by an auto driven by F. H. Clark, 2305 McGill Street, on Grandview Highway, Saturday, A. Bibby received minor injuries.

LAURA LA PLANTE STARS IN MYSTERY PLAY "CAT AND CANARY" AT CAPITOL

Popular Star Plays Stellar Role in Thrilling Screen Story; Arthur Edmund Carewe Also Gives Splendid Showing; Effective Photography Creates Fascinating and Interesting Film

Laura La Plante climbs another rung on the ladder to universal popularity through her interpretation of the stellar role in Universal's "The Cat and the Canary," the fascinating mystery-drama which enjoyed continued countrywide success as a stage play from the pen of John Willard. Go to the Capitol Theatre this evening if you wish an experience packed full of thrills and delicious suspense. You'll be hanging on your seat for dear life from start to finish.

The story is characterized by interesting and effective photographic shots, reflective of the genius of director Paul Leni. His instinctive sense of beauty and drama brings into play an interpretation of the values of the plot, producing an audience-reaction so eagerly sought after by directors.

In order to the viewer's objective, Leni has made full use of the laws of action and reaction by using suspense-lifting interludes to heighten the dramatic tension through laugh-provoking situations injected at opportune intervals.

Laura La Plante, as usual, gives an eminent performance fully justifying her stellar prominence in the movie. Arthur Edmund Carewe is splendid in his role, as are the other members of the supporting cast, including Tully Marshall, Lucien Littlefield, Forrest Stanley, George Siegmann, Flora Finch, Martha Mattox and others.

The specialties on the Capitol programme for the week include a spectacular presentation which introduces Diggon's creations in crepe paper, twelve living models in character presentations, and interspersed with a dainty dance offering, introducing Irene Minter, artiste pupil of Mona Jewell. The other acts include Rob Witt, the famous Ukulele Bob of the vitaphone and phonograph records, and Harriet Murton, soprano, in song selections.

Fine Vaudeville Bill at Coliseum Theatre This Week

"Richard the Lion-Hearted" is Also Showing as Screen Attraction

The bill for the week at the Coliseum is a well-arranged entertainment. The stage offers four acts of clever vaudeville. The opening act is a little girl dancer that is bound to please. Following this is George Durham in a singing and talking act also offering impersonations. Next comes a comedy sketch entitled "In 1977," a tragic comedy of the future with Harold Bechtel, Bobbie Stephens and Will Marshall.

Closing the vaudeville performance is Eva Hart, Victoria's popular soprano. "Richard, the Lion-Hearted," a romance of the Third Crusade based on Sir Walter Scott's famous novel, "The Talisman," is the screen showing this week.

Such a tremendous success was scored by "Robin Hood" that the newly organized firm of notables who are incorporated under the title of "Associated Authors" screened a story which takes up the thread of the adventures of the great King Richard from the time that he left England until his return. Taken with the story told in the Douglas Fairbanks production, it gives a fairly complete historical representation of the famous historical period of the Third Crusade.

Wallace Berry takes the feature role of King Richard. Kathleen Clifford was cast for the role of Queen Berengaria; Marguerite de la Monte for Lady Edith; Planchette; John Bowers for Sir Kenneth, Knight of the Leopard; Charles Gerrard for Sultan Saladin; Tully Marshall for the hermit of Engaddi; Clarence Geldert as Sir Conrad de Montserrat and Wilbur Higby as Sir Thomas Devaux.

Custer Massacre Is Shown in Film Now at Columbia

Grandson of Great Sioux Chief Was Secured for Thrilling Picture

Super-realism in the Custer Massacre which forms the climax of the Universal production "The Fighting Frontier," now showing at the Columbia Theatre, was guaranteed by the engagement of the grandson of the great chief, Gail, mighty fighting chief of the Sioux. It was Gail who, while the medicine man, Sitting Bull, invoked the aid of the Indian dieties, led his mighty warriors against the inferior forces of General Custer and it was he who directed the ensuing massacre which forms one of the darkest pages of American history.

Young Gail helped direct all the Indian sequences and led his red brethren in the mock massacre, just as his grandfather actually did in the real battle. Thanks to his help and the information he was able to give, owing to his having heard his grandfather tell the story over and over again, Universal was able to show the methods of the Indians in a manner which was historically correct and which forms the most interesting realistic bits of history ever shown on the screen.

Ford Sterling in "For Love of Mike" At the Playhouse

Famous Cop of Mack Bennett Productions Goes Through Funny Antics

Ford Sterling, dean of Mack Bennett's famous cops, returned to New York after an absence of a year, to play a featured role in Mack Bennett's "For the Love of Mike," now on view at the Playhouse.

Sterling, who for the past several years has been starring in full length comedies, was teamed with George Sidney and Hugh Cameron, as one of three East Side foster-fathers of a founding left in a tenement house.

"In 'For the Love of Mike' Sterling plays again for the first time in many years the character he originally made famous, the talkative, spitting German.

While at the Kane studios Sterling met for the first time Louis John Bartels, who created on the stage the role Sterling is best known for on the screen, "The Spook Show."

Ben Lyon, Claudette Colbert, Mabel Saver and Skeets Gallagher are in the cast of "For the Love of Mike," which Frank Capra directed.

HOWARD GOULDEN,

the famous trap drummer with Sousa's Band, has returned from London, where he exhibited his skill as the most prolific drummer in the world.

LON CHANEY AS SINISTER ARMLESS SIDESHOW FREAK IS APPEARING AT DOMINION

Scenes of Circus Shown in Metro-Goldwyn Feature, "The Unknown"; Famous Performers Appear Before Camera and Marvellous Acting of Star Makes Thrilling Picture

Trained horses, acrobats, clowns, chariots—the full panoply of a circus, was assembled to support Lon Chaney in his latest mystery role, in "The Unknown," his new Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer picture, which is now playing at the Dominion Theatre. An entire circus was moved to the Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer studios for the new production, and many famous circus performers did their thrilling tricks before the camera.

Nearly a thousand people appeared as spectators in the big scenes under the canvas top, and watched a full circus performance. Among the famous circus stars in the cast were the Davenport troupe, famous bareback riders, Jack Phillips, premier riding clown of the circus; "Smitty," another famous clown; the Xani troupe, noted Mexican wire walkers and others.

Tod Browning, the director, was himself a circus performer in his youth, as was his assistant, Harry Sharrock. Chaney plays a sinister armless sideshow freak in the new picture, a vivid mystery drama with a Spanish circus as its background. The cast includes Joan Crawford as the heroine, Norman Kerry in the role of Malabar, the circus strong man, John George, Nick de Ruiz and others of note.

The story is an original by Tod Browning, scenarized by Waldemar Young.

AUSTRALIANS IN FAREWELL CONCERT HERE

Touring Band From "Down Under" to be Heard at Crystal Garden Wednesday

The Australian Band will give its final concert in the Crystal Garden on Wednesday afternoon and evening. Such noted players as Arthur Stender, cornet soloist, and Charlie Collins, trombone, and Harold Reid, xylophone, will be heard at their best.

While playing at the Western fair, comments were freely given as to the band's fine performance.

Effects only supposed to come from the grand organ, are very noticeable; also the reed effects, such as are only expected to be produced from military bands are heard, coming from muted cornets.

With Albert H. Hall, as conductor, this combination of soloists should give a good account of itself.

At the Crystal Garden the band will also play a selection of jazz numbers.

Mrs. Green—"As I tell my husband, it ought to be shared and shared alike. Marriage is a partnership."

Mrs. White (sweetly)—"Yes, and after all, you're the senior partner, aren't you, dear?"

DANCER SUES SCREEN ACTOR FOR MILLION

Los Angeles, Sept. 19.—The Examiner says that Juanita Montanya, nineteen-year-old Spanish dancer and film actress, has filed suit for $1,000,000 damages against Wallace Beery, film comedian, charging that he attacked her while she was a guest at his home and is the father of her expected child.

Beery, according to the dancer's complaint, attacked her while she was spending several weeks as the guest of Mrs. Rita Beery, the actor's wife, in their Hollywood home last December. The second attack, she charges, was when the actor drove here to her home in his automobile at the conclusion of her visit.

The complaint asks $500,000 actual and $500,000 exemplary damages.

Beery is at a camp in the high Sierras on a fishing excursion. Miss Montanya came into the news limelight when Hollywood police accused her of appearing in the vicinity of a film actor's home with a pistol concealed in a black handkerchief. Later when the police attempted to question her at a Hollywood hotel, she barricaded herself in a room and was taken into custody only after she had fired several shots.

She was sent to a home after the dismissal of insanity charges that had been placed against her.

The characters represented are: "Ye Olden Dandy," "Tropical Butterfly," "Little Puritan," "French Maid," "The Valentine," "Spanish Shawl," "Persian Lady," "Flower Garden," "Sweet Lavender," "Rainbow," "Little Peach Blossom."

Included in the cast are: The Misses Poole, Fayer, Jewell, Lawrey, Hutton, Diggon, Acton, Schroeder, Ferguson, Foster, Gibson, Bolt, Metcalfe and Miss Irene Minter, toe dancer, (a pupil of Miss Mona Jewell).

MOTHER DAY IS MANAGER FOR HER TWO DAUGHTERS

Hollywood, Cal., Sept. 19.—When Marceline Day first "crashed" the movies, she followed right in the footsteps of her sister.

And now sister Alice is following Marceline's lead.

Both girls went into comedies first—as bathing beauties on the Mack Sennett lot. But after four months of playing around in a bathing suit without having a chance to get it wet—or even damp—Marceline turned to the more serious and of acting.

A few weeks ago Alice also turned her back on comedies to become a dramatic actress. She is now playing the feminine lead in "The Gorilla" for First National and there is talk that she will soon sign a contract with the same studio.

DARLIES IN OIL, TOO

But, after all, this is a story about Marceline. I dropped in to see her a few days ago just as an oil well of hers was about to be brought in and the little actress was too excited to talk about much else.

"Just think what I can do if the well really pans out," she exclaimed. "If the studio officials try to give me a role I don't like I can tell them I will quit pictures."

"But of course I'll never do that." In two years Marceline has become one of the most popular leading ladies on the screen. In her advancement she has been greatly aided by her mother. Mrs. Day knows the movies inside and out, and she has made a great manager for her daughters.

STARTS ON WESTERNS

A few western leads, which usually come early in the careers of most feminine stars, were quickly followed by bigger roles. Then John Barrymore selected her as his leading lady in "The Beloved Rogue." The mere fact that she played with John Barrymore was a great boost for the girl, although the picture itself wasn't good enough to help her much.

Miss Day has just finished "The Hypnotist" with Lon Chaney and is slated to play opposite him in his next film.

In a certain case one of the counsel tried to serve his client by throwing suspicion on a witness.

The first question was, "You admit you were at defendant's house every evening during this period?"

"Yes, sir."

"State whether you and he were interested in any special transaction business or otherwise."

"Yes, sir, we were."

"Ah!" exclaimed counsel, "then you will be good enough to tell us the nature of the business in which you were jointly interested."

"I was courting his daughter."

MARCH KING IS MOST VERSATILE

Sousa's Band to be Heard at Arena in Concerts Oct. 3

Leut.-Commander John Philip Sousa, who is making his thirty-fifth annual tour with his famous band, is one of the most versatile and prolific of American composers. The world at large knows him as the March King, but in spite of the fact that he has published 128 marches, including his three new ones, "Sequel-Centennial," "Pride of the Wolverines" and "Glad-iron Club," the marches represent only a small share of his labors.

Sousa is the composer of six operas, including "El Capitan," "The Bride-elect," "Desire," "The Queen of Hearts," "Chris and the Wonderful Lamp" and "The Charlatan," all great successes in their day. He has to his credit more than twenty suites, forty or fifty songs and a monumental work for orchestra, organ and choir, "The Last Crusade," performed in Philadelphia two years ago. He has written three novels, "Pipetown Sandy," "The Transit of Venus" and "The Fifth String," to say nothing of his recently published autobiography, "Keeping Time."

But the great labor of any conductor is not in composition, but in transcription and arrangement. Sousa only can guess at the amount of music which he has transcribed or arranged for his own organization. A fairly close guess is 8,000 compositions. Sousa and his band will appear at the Arena for two concerts on Monday, October 3.

"The Wife & Co."

By LYLE HAMILTON

"I took him the money, and he said: 'Well, that's that.' Their visitor said: 'I was so happy—I thought he could find a job and maybe everything would be all right. But he told me I was a prize four-flusher.' She spoke in the dull monotone of a child reciting at school. 'He said he was ditching me. I got on my knees and prayed—I said I'd go where he went, and he laughed and put on his hat and took his suitcase. It was packed, waiting. I tried to follow him, and he turned around and hammered me in the face. When I fell down, by and by, he kicked me. My sides—she placed her hands on her body, above her waist—'It's hard for me to breathe.'"

"The beast!" Molly's nostrils swelled. She turned to her husband, "Bob, drag that couch into the dining room and get those extra sheets and the blanket out of the cupboard. Here—I'll do it."

Before he had finished moving the couch she had spread a sheet upon the satin surface and was placing a cushion at one end. "Come here and lie down—I'll help you undress," she called to Little Swedie.

The girl came, bending a little to one side in pain. Brownell was called to the living room while Molly helped her guest to remove her clothes, and brought a nightgown for her.

"If you want me, you call," she directed, as she tucked another sheet and the blanket around Mary's limp form.

"You're sweet to me," said the other, drowsily, as Molly turned out the lights.

"The brute! The beast! The horrible, horrible beast!" Molly was striking her fists together as she rejoined her husband.

"Somebody ought to knock his block off," Brownell said.

"I've heard of men beating their wives, but I never saw anybody before—doesn't she look terrible!" She sank to the edge of the bed, which Bob had lowered from its place in the wall. "Do you think we ought to call a doctor?"

"No, she'll be all right. Fellows look like that after a prize fight. She'll get over it."

"Why, Bob! How heartless!" He looked at her wonderment. "What do you mean—heartless?"

"The careless way you take it," said she. "Bob, that poor girl is a ghastly sight."

"Well, get what?" He wagged his head as he stooped to remove his shoes. "You said I was too sympathetic last night, and now I'm not sympathetic enough."

"But that was different. She was just crying then, and now—why, Bob, that blood almost made me faint!"

He kicked his shoes into the corner and stood up to pull off his shirt. "I think a person can be hurt a good deal inside than they can outside. That game lip and the shiner on her eye will soon get well, but she felt just as bad last night as she does now."

"That's very absurd," Molly started her own preparations for bed. "It's a great deal worse to have your face all bloody than to have your feelings hurt."

Her husband, in the bathroom, turned the hot water into the tub, but he came to the door long enough to retort: "That's because you're a woman. Any man'd rather have two black eyes and a busted jaw than to go through what little Swedie did, before he smashed her."

The bathroom door closed, and that ended the argument.

Next morning Mary Holmquist was up and dressed before the Brownells were astir. She even had her hat on when Molly, in a fresh house dress, opened the dining-room door.

"You've been so good to let me stay here all night," said Little Swedie, "but I won't sponge on you for breakfast."

"You take that hat off and don't be silly," Molly responded, warmly. "You're going to have all day."

"But Sticks—"

"Sticks nothing! Bob will tell Mr. Frasier himself all about it, and Sticks can't say a word. You mustn't think of going to the office with your face the way it is!"

There was a reason in this argument. The bruises on the blonde girl's face had darkened overnight, and one cheek was entirely out of proportion to the other. She had an undeniable black eye, and her lips held no resemblance whatever to the Cupid's bow moult that once was her chief attraction.

Little Swedie was a sight! She confessed it as she surveyed herself in the mirror.

"Why do you think your husband might have looked for you at her apartment last night?" Brownell inquired, when he finally drifted into the dining-room.

"He said he'd say for me—and punch me every time he saw me," she told him.

The young man suppressed a yawn. "I'm pretty sleepy," he said, and can't think straight yet—too early. But if he had the suitcase packed and ready, I'll bet he's on his way. He wouldn't hang around."

While Brownell set the table, the two girls unskillfully bustled around the kitchen, preparing breakfast. The injured girl even laughed, once—Molly was attempting to bake the breakfast eggs in their shells, and the eggs exploded.

It took fifteen minutes to clean the oven and start over again.

"Say," said Brownell, "unless you stir up this breakfast mighty quick, I've got to beat it. I'll be late."

The office can wait. At least, the bridegroom was late that morning. At Molly's insistence, he finished breakfast, and was further delayed while his bride told him in detail what to say to Mr. Frasier.

"Men are just big children," Molly said, after she had kissed her husband goodbye and had watched him as he turned the corner of the stair. "If you don't tell them everything to say they'll probably not say anything."

Mary was washing the dishes. "What makes you think so?"

"Why, everybody knows it!" Molly declared, surprised.

"I wonder!" The little blonde thoughtfully scoured the sugar from the bottom of a cup. "You know, I've never found them so shy of things to say—if they wanted to talk."

"That's just when there with girls," Molly took a dish towel and began drying the china that her companion laid before her. "My mama always told my papa what to say when he went anywhere to talk business."

"What does your father do?" Little Swedie inquired.

"Why, everybody knows it!" Molly hesitated, surprised.

gets are very different things," Little Swedie announced.

"How's your side—where he kicked you?" asked Molly, suddenly.

"It's all black and blue, but it doesn't hurt so much now. She hung up the dish cloth, pensively. "It's queer, but I feel almost happy over that. A person's got to be happy over something, haven't they?"

The telephone rang, and Molly answered. It proved to be Mr. Frasier on the line. The bride's face hardened and her voice was icy as she said: "Yes, I'll call her," she turned to Mary. "The boss wants you."

At the end of a brief conversation, the blonde hung up the receiver and turned a stricken gaze on her hostess. "He says I've got to come back and work!"

"But Bob must have told him how you looked!" protested Molly.

"Yes, he said that. And he said he hadn't hired me as an ornament—he'd hire me to write letters, and that if I could walk and use my hands I'd better hustle right down there." She dropped into a chair. "What shall I do?"

"He's a miserable mean old big!" Molly declared. "Didn't he say anything else?"

"Yes, he said I'd be a lesson to the rest of the girls not to go off and get married to the first loafer that turned up." She shook her head. "Molly, I can't go! I need my job, but—"

"You ought to have heard what he said to me," the new Mrs. Brownell was bawling with indignation. "I came in to see you yesterday—"

"I saw you," Mary said.

"And he called me into his office and said I mustn't come visiting there any more, wasn't wanted," she said. "Can you beat it?" She breathed hard. "As if a woman shouldn't be welcome at the place where her own husband works—not to speak of my working there myself."

"I owe him five hundred dollars," the other girl murmured, despondently. "But it isn't really you who owe it—it's your husband," Molly urged.

"Let old Frasier get it from your husband if he wants his money so badly!"

"No," Mary spoke positively. "He didn't lend it to my husband. He lent it to me. He was trying to be kind."

"Kind!" Molly's nostrils distended in a manner not unlike those of Mrs. Potter in moments of excitement.

"Any man that'll tell a girl to stay away from her own husband's office! Kind!"

"Yes, he's kind," said the blonde. "Don't be unjust simply because you're mad at him."

"Mary Holmquist, I never was unjust in my life!"

Little Swedie made an appealing gesture. "Don't get mad at me," she said. "Please tell me what you wanted to see me about yesterday."

There is a promising sign for those who would collect debts, or set their business affairs in order.

Appendicitis is to be more prevalent than usual. It is forecast, and there should be quick recognition of symptoms.

Science is to make tremendous progress in the study of the human body, attention being directed to phenomena associated with the functioning of the mind, astrologers foretell.

Occultism is to flourish and to intrude its claims on territory not previously invaded, the seers prognosticate.

Again the stars smile on cooks and cooking. Women and men, too, will be greatly concerned about the chemical aspects of food, it is forecast.

Increase in the number of forgeries and embezzlements will be a matter of great concern in the next few months, if the astrologers are to be believed.

Great extravagances will be indulged in by the wealthy in the coming winter. It is foretold, and this is always a sign to be read gravely, since it presages some national calamity.

All the signs appear to indicate for Russia real political development that will interest the United States.

Persons whose birthdate it is have the augury of a year good in all respects.

Children born on this day usually will succeed best in public offices. Many soldiers are born under this sign.

CREDITS CONSERVATIVES WITH TROJAN SERVICE

Kincardine, Ont., Sept. 19.—The temporary Federal leader of the Conservative opposition, Hon. Hugh Guthrie, appeared here Saturday at a Conservative picnic and addressed the electors of South Bruce, where a provincial by-election is pending.

Weakened as the Conservative party had been by the last election, Mr. Guthrie averred that they had yet accomplished Trojan service for the country in the last session of Parliament. He intimated as an accomplishment the defeat of the Georgian Bay Canal and Power scheme as presented by the Sifton interests.

Collections Better In B.C. Business, Credit Reports Show

Winnipeg, Sept. 17.—The weekly trade report of the Canadian Credit Men's Trust Association Limited reads: Saint John—Wholesale trade is reported to be somewhat quiet; retail trade fair. Collections fair.

Montreal—An improvement in the sale of wholesale groceries, dry goods and boots and shoes is reported. Sales of goods' furnishings and clothing are about normal. Ladies wear continues to improve. Country merchants report an improvement.

Toronto—An improvement in volume generally is apparent in the wholesale trade. City retailers also have had a busy week. Collections showing an improvement.

Winnipeg—A normal volume of business is being transacted by wholesalers generally. The retail trade has dropped off to a certain extent. Collections fair.

Regina—A fair volume is reported by wholesalers generally and indications point to a very satisfactory fall business. Retail trade satisfactory and improvement expected. Collections improving.

Saskatoon—All lines of wholesale trade report a good amount of trading

HIGH STANDARD FOR IMMIGRANTS IS SET

Physical Fitness is Important Point, Says C.P.R. Colonization Man

Quebec, Sept. 19.—"We have had a very successful year and it might be a more successful one if the people in the West had a little more faith in their own country," stated Major A. Ewan Moore, European colonization manager of the Canadian Pacific Railway, who arrived in Canada on the liner "Montcalm," of the Canadian Pacific fleet, to look things over, and seeing what is necessary for immigration plans for next year.

Major Moore left on a tour of Western Canada yesterday. "The Canadian Pacific Railway," he stated, "has consistently followed its agreement with the Government, and has refused to make any modification for whom no place had been found before hand."

"The belief in a sustained, continuous immigration policy," he continued, "and continuity is the most important part, as the stream may be easily checked or diverted if a sense of uncertainty arises in the mind of the prospective colonist as regards the intention of the Canadian Government."

At the present time, while the border is free between the United States and Canada, continued Major Moore, "a Britisher is subject to minor restrictions in the way of immigration, but the Canadian Government is to demand a higher standard of physical fitness from Britishers than from any other nation."

The Canadian Pacific pointed out that while the movement of single men and women into the country was to be strongly desirable, there should be an attempt by all concerned to establish a policy which would enable families to establish as units in Canada.

GOOD WILL POLICY
"A general policy of good will is absolutely essential between all interests in immigration and the welfare of the Dominion," concluded Major Moore.

The Canadian brought out a heavy list of passengers, among them numerous returning Canadians, in addition to some Americans. Mr. Henderson, managing editor of the oldest newspaper in New Zealand, being among the latter travelers.

Mr. Blunt graduated from the College of Forestry, University of Washington, in 1917. Since leaving school he has spent most of his time in the lumber industry. In 1920 he became associated with the Shingle branch of the West Coast Lumbermen's Association. Since then he has acted as the secretary-manager of the Brite-Grade Shingle Association, and the secretary-manager of the Red Cedar Lumber Manufacturers' Association.

C.N.R. EARNINGS

The gross earnings of the Canadian National Railways, including the Central Vermont Railway, but excluding all lines in Canada east of Lewis and Diamond Junction, for the week ending September 7, 1927, were $4,853,168.00, as compared with $4,852,464.26 for the same week of 1926, an increase of $703.74 or five per cent.

Passenger and Freight Service By Air Planned

Spokane, Sept. 19.—An airway transportation company to carry passengers and freight between Spokane and Portland, Ore., was announced here Saturday.

Hunley Airways, Inc., was organized by J. H. Hunley, former stage line owner, and several associates, according to Charles K. Lee, incorporator. The capital stock is $100,000, Lee declared.

The company hopes to begin operations within ninety days. Lee said, as two planes are now being purchased and the new company has an option on land next to the Spokane airport. An aviation school will be conducted in connection with the service.

Search For Liquor Reveals Stowaways

New York, Sept. 19.—Customs inspectors searching for liquor on the Belgian liner Mercur yesterday opened a secret plot in the bow's cabin and there found an eleven-year-old Belgian girl. Further investigation revealed the girl's mother and fifteen-year-old brother disguised in women's clothes as members of the crew.

The woman, Mrs. Constantine van Lerberghe, said they had stowed away on the ship, seeking to follow her husband, who deserted his family to come to America a year ago. The tender-hearted woman had been touched by their predicament and sought to shield them, she said. They were taken to Ellis Island for deportation.

Hugh McKenzie, general passenger agent for the Dollar Line, and D. J. Hancomb, general passenger agent for the Admiral Line are also delegates.

New Rule Made For Shipping of Dogs by Rail

Vancouver, Sept. 19.—The attention of dog owners is drawn to the new regulations which demand that dogs be muzzled before checking for shipment over all railways in Canada, and also on all coastwise, river and lake steamship service.

Announcement to this effect was made this morning at the local offices of the Canadian Pacific Railway, where it was made clear that dogs, provided they were properly muzzled, could be shipped without further delay.

HEAVY RAINS HALT HARVEST ON PRAIRIES

Winnipeg, Sept. 19.—Heavy rains throughout the prairie provinces of Western Canada during the past week have brought harvesting operations practically to a standstill according to the report issued by the Canadian National Railways.

In Manitoba wheat is nearly all cut and threshing is general but the wet weather has halted work. Very little progress has been made during the week. Where threshing is under way the yield averages from ten bushels as high as twenty-five and thirty, mostly No. 3 grade. Oats give from fifteen to eighteen in some districts, and barley from twenty to twenty-five, with fifty between Haliboro and McCreary.

Cutting is almost completed in Saskatchewan but the rain has tied up threshing work. Drying wheat toward the end of the week gave promise of better weather. There are indications of 20, 25 and 30 bushels to the acre, the yield being better this year than last, here and there.

Alberta, too, has suffered delay from adverse weather, eighty-five per cent of the wheat is cut and threshing will be well under way this week if conditions improve.

Progress Made on Hudson Bay Road

The Psa, Man., Sept. 9.—The steel bridge over the limestone River at mile 250, Hudson Bay Road, has been completed, also the trestle over the big coulee two miles further on. Steel will be laid immediately on the grade for the six or seven mile stretch to the point where the road turns off to Port Churchill. Work on this new route is already under way.

Several gangs of men are engaged in grading operations. Over 100 men are employed on the new terminal at mile 297, work on the terminal at mile 187 having been practically completed.

Throughout the line there are 1,440 men now employed, and with the exception of those mentioned are engaged in filling, re-tilling, ballasting and surfacing and generally bringing the road throughout up to standard condition. It is expected that there will be another six weeks before operations on the road will close for the season.

LAST TRIBUTE PAID TO PACIFIC FLYERS

Service on Ss. Maui is Held Where Dallas Spirit Thought to Have Gone Down

Steamship Maui at Sea, Sept. 17.—A floating floral barge, with its message, "God Bless You, Everyone," was placed yesterday upon the calm waters of the Pacific as the last act in a service of tribute to the seven who died in the Dole flight race which was started just one month ago.

The last tender message was that of the school children of Oahu, Ill., to their young and beautiful teacher, Miss Mildred Doran, who with smiling courage went down to the sea with the brave men who took flight in three planes from Oakland, Calif., for Honolulu, 2,400 miles distant.

The liner Maui, following the course of the Dole flight, was stopped yesterday 744 miles from the Golden Gate while tribute to their courage was paid in an eulogy by Walter C. Chubb, president of the Hawaiian Chamber of Commerce, and a cargo of flowers was spread upon the ocean which received their bodies while their spirits hovered upon the waves.

A choir made up of passengers sang the hymns, "Face to Face," and "Abide With Me," and after prayers and benedictions had been pronounced, the passengers lowered upon the waves floating floral pieces bearing messages of farewell. The entire crew joined with the passengers in the service.

The services were held at the place from which was received on the night of August 19 the radioed cry from the Dallas Spirit plane, "We are in a tail spin," the last message from Captain William P. Erwin and Alvin R. Bishop, bravely they had set out from Oakland to rescue the five Dole fliers who had preceded them three days in a race to Honolulu, which they never reached.

The five others for whom flowers were placed upon the water were Miss Mildred Doran, Pilot Alvin R. Bishop, Captain John S. Byrom, assistant marine superintendent of the Canadian Pacific Coast Steamship Service.

SEATTLE SHIPPING

Seattle, Sept. 19.—The second carrier for October loading from Puget Sound to the United Kingdom chartered by the Canadian-American Shipping Company, the steamship Berwicklaw, is to arrive at Seattle October 10 to load a full cargo of wheat, lumber and general cargo.

The Wilburco, now loading at Seattle, is to lift 2,000 tons of general and 3,500,000 feet of lumber before sailing for the East coast via San Francisco September 27.

With 4,000 tons of cargo loaded at Puget Sound the Dorothy Luckenbach sailed yesterday for the Atlantic coast.

CHARMER HAULED OUT AT YARROWS

Damage to C.P.R. Vessel, Which Grounded Saturday, Reported Slight

St. Charles, Canadian Pacific coastwise steamer which went aground in the Narrows near Vancouver Saturday, arrived here yesterday afternoon and was hauled out on the marine railway at Yarrow's Limited this morning for preliminary survey. Damage to the vessel is not very great, according to general reports.

The Charmer was floated free at high water at 10 p.m. Saturday with the assistance of C.P.R. tugs. She went under her own steam to Pier D, Vancouver, and after lying there all night left for Victoria in the morning.

MAKING NO WATER
She appeared to be making no water when she left Vancouver, according to Capt. John S. Byrom, assistant marine superintendent of the Canadian Pacific Coast Steamship Service.

The Charmer grounded at 5 a.m. Saturday while inbound from Nanaimo with freight and passengers. The water was at half-tide rising, but so firmly was she imbedded in the gravel that at noon high tide three tugs failed to get her off. They were successful at night, however. The passengers were brought ashore in the tug Point Hllice about 10 a.m.

C.P.R. officials decline to discuss the circumstances of the fog signal and light on Burnaby should being out of commission at the time as a result of an accident some weeks ago. This was regarded by mariners as the best fog signal and direction guide available in the Narrows.

Egyptian Crew Stages "Strike"

Oakland, Cal., Sept. 19.—A crew of Egyptians shipped by the German freighter Karpfanger at Alexandria was "on strike" in the harbor here Saturday night. Capt. Fritz Denzin complained to the police that his crew had mutinied, but they found the Egyptian mariners doing nothing but staging a passive refusal to work unless they get more wages. Capt. Denzin's appeal to the German consul was referred to the United States district attorney's office, which decided it could do nothing except deport the members of the crew should they leave the vessel.

SAN FRANCISCO SHIPPING

San Francisco, Sept. 17.—Leo R. Archer, Pacific Coast agent for the Panama Pacific Line operating in the international trade, announced here yesterday that the company's new liner California is scheduled to leave the East Coast on her maiden voyage on January 28. The present plans call for the California, which is the largest vessel ever laid down in an American shipyard, to arrive in San Diego on Saturday mornings, at San Pedro on Saturday afternoon and in San Francisco on Monday. The liner is capable of making the trip from New York to the West Coast in sixteen days, clipping two days off the record of the Panama Pacific ships Mongolia and Manchuria, operated in the inter-coastal trade now.

More than $50,000 of gold bullion from Java consigned to local banks was in the specie tanks of the Nippon Yusen Kaisha liner Tenyo Maru when she arrived here early yesterday from the Orient.
